Summit Pacific Finishes in the Top Ten for Most Beautiful Hospitals in America

ATLANTA, Georgia— After a nation-wide vote ended June 15th, Soliant Health announced its top 20 Most Beautiful Hospitals in America honorees today. Making the list at number ten is Summit Pacific Medical Center in Elma, Washington. 248,116 votes were turned in during the annual contest, which was almost double the amount of votes the contest received last year. This was the 6th year for the Most Beautiful Hospital Contest.

“Our team put a lot of thought behind each design decision made during the construction of Summit Pacific,” Renee Jensen, CEO share. “We have been and continue to be passionate about bringing the same level of care and facilities seen in larger urban areas to our small community. So it’s really exciting see our community’s support result in a national ranking for both our facility and the city of Elma.”

With over 6,500 votes, Soliant shares that Summit Pacific is the embodiment of modern and welcoming. Coming in at the number one spot was McKay-Dee Hospital in Ogden, Utah. One other Washington hospital made the top 20 list, and that was number 18, Legacy Salmon Creek Medical Center in Vancouver.
