Summit Pacific is Bringing Back Grays Harbor’s Health Fair, and Looking for Vendors

ELMA, WA—Summit Pacific Medical Center is looking for vendors for their Peak Health Wellness Fair taking place at the Grays Harbor County Fairgrounds on Saturday, October 17, 2015 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The fair has been renamed because it is now more inclusive of total health.

Cost of participation is $50 for vendors. Non-profit organizations may have the fee waived if they offer a free prize or service for the community. Wellness Fair Coordinators ask that all applying vendors send a check for the participation fee with their application form. The check will only be cashed if the applicant is accepted to participate in the fair. The application deadline is May 29. The coordinators will be notifying accepted vendors in July.

Coordinators are looking for vendors who will bring interactive booths for the public to enjoy. For example, a free five-minute chair massage or a drawing for a wellness themed gift basket. All wellness exams must be free of charge to the public. All wellness exams must be free to the public. We will be providing a table and chairs but all other items for such as easels, cords, tablecloths, etc., are the vendor’s responsibility.

This opportunity will be mutually beneficial for the public as well as the vendors. In the past, more than 400 community members have attended the fair each year. Apply now as space is limited. Priority will be given to vendors who follow the “Celebrate Wellness” theme.

Vendors can download the application packet and learn more about the event by going to summitpacificmedicalcenter.org and clicking on the events page.
